Hey everyone, I am writing to inform you all of some very ... Disturbing news. It seems like everyone's "favorite" hack website (<http://www.msxsecurity.com>) Has released a BF2 aimbot and the commander hack is back also. There is a way however to spot enemys using the aimbot. If you see a player get 3 or 4 kills in a row with a rifle/pistol, try and watch them very closely. If they are looking through walls and ammassing massive kills its most likely they are hacking. Remember, the only "perfect" anti cheat is having a admin present at all times. We all were ignorant for thinking that client hooks and aimbots would not touch BF2, when it has become as popular as it has. This was something that was destined to happen, so Please prepare yourself. There are movies of this aimbot out, so watch them and get familiar with them, so you know what to look for. Here are some links to the movies. <http://video.google.com/videoplay?do...15404568905503>
